

COLORADO MONITORING FRAMEWORK

Creating collaborative solutions to Colorado's water quality challenges

Who We Are

The CMF is a nonprofit organization that operates with the goal of having a diverse membership in order to support municipal, industrial, and agricultural interests and address increasing complex regulations and compliance requirements. The CMF provides a unique forum for members to share information, exchange implementation experiences, and develop scientifically-defensible data to address statewide as well as site-specific water quality challenges. Coordinating monitoring activities and sharing data facilitates identification of opportunities to improve the scientific foundations for water quality standards development. Collaborative problem-solving is the approach the CMF emphasizes to help its individual members develop approaches that are technically sound, effective, and in compliance with state and federal regulations.

Benefits of Membership

Your participation and collaboration in the CMF will help:

- Create consistency in data collection.
- Share effort and resources.
- Share data and information among members.
- Develop approaches for site-specific standards and alternatives.
- Identify impacts of water management activities on water quality.
- Provide “strength in numbers,” e.g., enhanced ability to reach consensus with the Water Quality Control Division on regulatory, policy, and implementation issues.
- Provide access to technical and regulatory expertise and resources.
- Advance efforts through collaborative workshops to share knowledge and align on strategy.
- Promote outreach and awareness across the state and across stakeholder groups on key strategic water quality issues.
- Advance the body of knowledge regarding implementation of standards through participating in applied research (e.g., WRF projects).

COLORADO MONITORING FRAMEWORK

Membership Enrollment

Who is eligible for a Monitoring Framework membership?

Any individual or organization is eligible to become a Monitoring Framework member. Levels of membership are based on the type of organization and the level of desired involvement and the public is welcome to attend meetings. Individuals and organizations are welcome to attend a meeting prior to becoming a member to evaluate the CMF process, network and evaluate the benefits of becoming a member.

CMF dues are assessed on a calendar year basis. To become a CMF member, complete the Membership Enrollment Form below (make check payable to Colorado Monitoring Framework), and return to:
